Revision 2.3
3 July 1994

Copyright 1994 by Timothy M. Klein. Permission is granted to make any number of copies of this document or portion thereof, provided no copy is sold for a price beyond the costs of copying and/or mailing it, and provided this copyright notice is kept intact. All other rights are reserved by the author.

Inclusion of a provider on this list should not be construed as an endorsement thereof.

This is my attempt at a comprehensive list of companies, organizations and individuals offering products and services for 3D enthusiasts. The information has come from my own research as well as contributions from members of the "photo-3d" Internet electronic mailing list. I'm not trying to make a profit from it, so feel free to distribute as many copies as you like, subject to the restrictions mentioned above!

It is intended to include only true stereoscopy -- not CAD/CAM software that maps 3 dimensions onto 2, and the like. The list favors stereo photography somewhat, but it is intended to include all things stereoscopic, including holograms, single-image stereograms, 3D movies and television, computer graphics, etc. Two exceptions: Virtual reality systems, many of which involve stereoscopic displays, come and go so fast these days that I can't hope to keep up with them. And this list no longer includes stereo photography clubs. Clubs now occupy a separate file, probably called 3d.clubs, and probably available at the same place where you got this list. (Look in that file for information about how to subscribe to the "photo-3d" mailing list.)

I am always seeking new entries for the list, as well as updates to the ones already here. I'm especially interested in correcting any wrong information, as well as any typographical errors and badly formatted non-U.S.A. addresses and telephone numbers. If you can help, please send email or paper mail to one of my addresses shown above. Thanks!

The date in parentheses at the end of each entry is the most recent date for which I know the address was correct. For some of the older dates, if someone can verify that the address is still valid, I'll change the date.

Text in quotation marks was provided by the provider itself. I have attempted to keep the descriptions free of any of my own opinions.

Most of these providers will send you their products and services catalog if you send them your address on a postcard. But many of them are quite small and don't make much money, so it might be good to send a self-addressed stamped envelope (SASE) with your request for info. If you are mailing from a different country, your local post office can probably provide International Reply Coupons (IRCs) good for return postage from the provider's country.

The most recent version of this list can be retrieved by anonymous FTP from this Internet site:

csg.lbl.gov (also known as 128.3.112.84)

under either of these file names:

pub/listserv/photo-3d/3d.prod.serv

pub/listserv/photo-3d/3d.prod.serv.Z

(The latter file is compressed. It must be retrieved under "binary" mode in FTP, and reconstituted with the UNIX program "uncompress".)

An asterisk (*) before a name indicates an addition or significant modification since the last version of this list.
